MESSAGE

I am happy to note that the Council of Technical development and continuing academic educational and scientific studies (CTDS) is planning to publish a souvenir as part of its 10th anniversary celebrations.

This decade milestone marks a significant journey of commitment and service. Over the past ten years, the CTDS has played a crucial role in shaping informed public discourse, enhancing professional capacities, and contributing valuable insights to the development trajectory of our State.

Kerala is charting a decisive course towards comprehensive social, economic, and technological progress, prioritizing inclusive growth and sustainable development goals. Institutions like CTDS are indispensable partners in this endeavor. I extend my warmest congratulations to the CTDS leadership, staff, and all stakeholders on this momentous occasion and wish the 10th Anniversary celebrations every success.
